

LawyerCentral.com, December 10, 2012 - MASSACHUSETTS - Attorney James Hentz of the Law Office of James P. Hentz has expanded his legal practice to include Collections.

As we enter 2012, individuals are finding themselves in insurmountable debt that has both quickly and easily gotten, "Way out of control."

If you are being contacted by a collection agency, it usually means that a creditor has not received payment from you for several months and they have negotiated with another company or are using an in-house affiliate called a debt collector to attempt to get you to pay.

Dealing with a debt collector can be one of life's most stressful experiences. Harassing calls, threats, and use of obscene language can drive you to the edge. What's worse, a collector may embarrass you by contacting your employer, family or neighbors.

The Law Office of James P. Hentz has added collections as an area of practice in compliance with Attorney Hentz's motto "I will help you get your life back." No individual should have to run and hide from a debt collector.

We adhere to the Collector's Pledge which states, "I believe every person has worth as an individual. I believe every person should be treated with dignity and respect. I will make it my responsibility to help consumers find ways to pay their debts. I will be professional and ethical. I will commit to honoring this pledge."

If your business is experiencing extended delays in payment and you don't want to stress anyone out, but would like to work with a legal professional to put together payment plans to get paid for services rendered, please call Attorney James P. Hentz on his cell at 508-527-5161.
